Unit 1 - The Athlete

Important Considerations concerning Special Olympics Athletes

Psychological Considerations
(Learning)

Medical Considerations

Social Considerations
Unit 1 - Psychological Considerations

Motivation – helping athletes maintain interest
- May have shorter attention span; harder to keep “on task”.
- May be motivated more by short-term rather than long-term goals.
- May learn better with more frequent positive reinforcement.

Perception – helping athletes understand the sport in which they are participating
- May have impairments in sight or hearing.
- May have difficulty focusing attention on the appropriate object or task.
Unit 1 - Psychological Considerations

Comprehension – helping athletes remember and perform the skill they have learned

- May find it difficult to understand verbal explanations of skills.
- May find it easier to learn through visual demonstrations.
- May have difficulty in understanding complex explanations.
- May take a longer time between learning multiple pieces of information.
- May have difficulty generalizing skills learned in one situation to a different situation.
- Written instructions may be more helpful than verbal, depending on the situation.
Unit 1 - Psychological Challenges

Unit 1 - Psychological Challenges

Motivation
• Challenge – Easily discouraged, or having feeling of failure
• Action – Point out positive things when the athlete is doing well

Comprehension
• Challenge – Learning from verbal explanation or long instructions
• Action – Add demonstrations, hands-on walkthroughs of skills, keeping instructions clear and concise

Perception
• Challenge – Easily distracted by noise
• Action – Control surroundings

Right: Athlete running by a crowd at track and field.
Down Syndrome

- Approximately 10% of individuals with Down Syndrome have a condition called Atlanto-axial instability.
- This condition may cause possible injury if they participate in activities that hyper-extend or radically flex the neck or upper spine.
- Prohibited sports – equestrian, gymnastics, diving, pentathlon, butterfly and dive starts in swimming, high jump, alpine/snowboarding, squat (powerlifting) and soccer.

Right: Two athletes celebrate at swimming.
Unit 1 - Medical Considerations

Medications
- Understand that athletes may be taking medications that have physical side effects.
- Consult with head coach or head of delegation if concerns arise.

Seizures
- The number of Special Olympics athletes with seizure disorders is higher than traditional athletes.
- Tasks to remember when assisting an athlete having a seizure:
  - Assist to a safe space around them;
  - Protect their head and neck; and
  - Lay on their side.
Physical Disabilities

- Some athletes also have physical disabilities which may affect the sports they can participate in.
- Special Olympics has events for individuals who use wheelchairs, walkers or other assistance.
- Muscle strength may be needed for a sport and some athletes may not have the strength for that sport.
  - This might be due to lack of use or a permanent disability.
  - This will change how you as a coach approaches helping this athlete.
Unit 1 - Medical Considerations

Autism
- Approximately 20% of athletes have an autism diagnosis
- Approximately 50% of people with autism are non-verbal

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome
- These athletes may consistently function better on performance tasks compared with verbal tasks. The more concrete the task, the better the performance.
- These athletes may tend to have attention and memory deficits and often display poor judgment in identifying right from wrong.

Unit 1 - Social Considerations

Economic Status
- May lack financial means to participate.
- May not have access to independent transportation.

Social Skills
- May lack basic interactive skills.
- May lack language interpretation.

Recreation at Home
- May lack physical activity.
- May lack encouragement/motivation.

Right: Basketball team huddles up for a breakdown
Unit 1 - Social Considerations

All the following social considerations may impact an athlete’s participation in Special Olympics:

- Inappropriate responses to social situations
- Extreme lack of endurance
- Lack of access to transportation

Our challenge as coaches is to develop a full understanding of our athletes and what they bring with them to a Special Olympics program.

There are many ways to organize a training session for Special Olympics athletes.

There is considerable value in developing a consistent training routine that provides familiarity.

1. Warm-Up and Stretching
   - Specific to the sport
   - Similar in every practice session
   - Involve athletes in leading activity
Unit 2 - Organizing a Training Session

2. Skills Instruction
   - Break skills into smaller tasks
   - Involve as many athletes at a time as possible
   - Practice skills directly related to competition

3. Competition Experience
   - Simulating game situations
   - Work towards what the competition will look like

4. Cool-Down, Stretch, and Reward
   - Play a game related to the sport
   - End each training with a cool-down activity and stretching
Unit 2 - Training Sequence

1. Break down skills into small tasks or steps.
2. Put together tasks to form skills.
3. Use drills and activities that always involve many athletes.
4. Practice skills in situations that are related to the game or event.

Communication is key to immediately reinforcing desired behavior.

There are several key words that begin with a “C” which address what a coach should say:

- Clear
- Concrete
- Concise
- Consistent
- Command-oriented

Each athlete needs to be met where he or she is.

It is important to use the appropriate level of instruction and assistance.

- Athletes with lower abilities may need more assistance
- Verbal assistance should always be paired with a demonstration
- Physical assistance may be needed to help an athlete get positioned

Above: Coach demonstrating the grip of a golf club to an athlete
Unit 2 - Levels of Assistance

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Level of Assistance</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Verbal</td>
<td>Tell the athlete what to do</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Partial Physical Assistance</td>
<td>Place the athlete in the proper position</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Full Physical Assistance</td>

<td>Bowling: coach moves the athlete’s arm through the entire bowling movement</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
A coach may often have certain expectations of an athlete that may not be realistic … not because the coach does not care, but because the coach does not understand or appreciate the differences that may exist.

When an athlete shows inappropriate behavior, it may not be defiance, acting out or silliness.

These behaviors may simply reflect the person and/or what is operating in the moment.

A key goal of Special Olympics is to provide an opportunity for all athletes to experience success in competitions.

A Special Olympics athlete can benefit from many aspects of a competition, but nothing should be as important to the coach as the focus on the participation in the competition itself.

This section highlights ways to improve the quality of an athlete’s competition experience.
Unit 3 - Preparing for Competition

Registration

• Provide accurate team roster information, qualifying times, and skills assessment scores.

Official competition rules

• Make sure that you know the Official Special Olympics Rules.
• Teach your athletes the rules and, during training, phase out your verbal reminders about rules.
• At competition, coaches may have little or no opportunity to assist athletes when they are not following the rules. (A coach cannot be on the track with them!)

Right: A poly hockey official calls ‘no goal’

30
Supervision

- Why are non-coaching support members important? There is a lot going on outside of the actual competition, including:
  - Transportation
  - Lodging (need for same-sex supervision)
  - Social activities
  - Multiple events to supervise
  - Awards ceremonies

- Create a supervision document that has athletes covered in every part of the competition
Travel and overnight

- Discuss overnight concerns with parents or group-home supervisors.
- Distribute a simple checklist of items to bring for athletes.
- Make sure that all special medication needs are understood.
  - Coaches may have to assist with handling medications, so be sure to always have all medical forms and information readily available.
- Arrange an effective rooming situation that limits possible clashes between athletes.
Guidelines for success

• Teach responsibility & independence
• Help athletes understand what to wear and what to expect on competition day
• Teach athletes how to maintain appropriate behavior at a competition
• Arrive early to allow time for putting on uniforms, a warm-up and stretching routine and focusing on the competition.
• Encourage maximum effort in practice and competition
Unit 3 - Competition-Day Coaching

Guidelines for success

• Let athletes compete without direct supervision
  • Allow athletes to make mistakes and help them learn from them
• Make any official protests calmly
  • If you think there is a valid reason to protest the outcome, do so in a calm manner, and not involving athletes in disputes.
  • Help athletes deal appropriately with winning and losing.
  • Focus on effort made, recognize accomplishments and new skills that were performed and taking something positive away from every experience.
The successful Special Olympics coach is:

• Knowledgeable about the sport and coaching
  • Knowledge of the sport and how to teach it is essential if coaches are to help athletes and truly benefit from their Special Olympics experience.
  • Successful coaches are constantly looking for opportunities to learn more about the sport.

• Knowledgeable about Special Olympics
  • Special Olympics has a clear mission, philosophy, and rules that have been developed through years of worldwide experience.
  • A better understanding of the mission will benefit your athletes.
The successful Special Olympics coach:

• Recruits and trains assistant coaches
  • Assistant coaches can be recruited to provide one-to-one attention
  • Assistant coaches are the most useful when they are trained and are a part of the planning process at practice
• Recruits and trains athletes
  • A coach is also a promoter and recruiter, hopefully trying to expand their team to more possible athletes
• Assists with appropriate sport selection
  • Picking a sport that is both age and ability appropriate for their team
Unit 4 – Managing the Program

The successful Special Olympics coach:

• Offers activities for all ability levels
• Puts a priority on safety
• Involves families and providers
  • This includes educating families and providers about the benefits of Special Olympics, as well as appropriate nutrition and training at home
• Assists with community inclusion
  • Improves social skills and creates opportunities to spread information about Special Olympics

• Level 1 certification requires a Volunteer Application and Level 1 online training and both items are found here.
Rules

Gameplay

• The game is played as non-contact.

• Rosters must have at least 6 participants, with at least 3 Unified partners, and a maximum of 16 participants.

• Game is comprised of two 18-minute running time halves.

• Teams will receive one 1-minute timeout per half.
Rules

Gameplay

• Touchdowns will be worth 6 points.

• For extra points, teams will select to attempt a play from the 5-yard line or the 10-yard line.
  • A successful attempt from the 5-yard line will result in 1 point.
  • A successful attempt from the 10-yard line will result in 2 points.
Rules

Offense

• All possessions, besides interceptions, will start from the 35-yard line.

• The offense will have four plays to cross the 20-yard line.

• If a team reaches midfield, they will receive four additional plays to score a touchdown.

• If the offense fails to cross midfield or score a touchdown in the allotted number of plays, there will be a change of possession.
Rules

Offense
• If the ball is snapped and not caught, the play is dead, and the down is counted.

• There are two “no running zones” on the field of play.
  • One is between the 20- and 25-yard line.
  • The other is between the 0- and 5-yard line.
  • No handoffs are allowed in these zones.

• Only direct handoffs behind the line of scrimmage are legal.
Rules

Screen Blocking

• Legally obstructing an opponent without contacting them with any part of the screen blocker’s body is allowed.

• The screen blocker should have their arms fully extended to the ground, below the waist, either at their side, front or back.

• Downfield blocking is allowed in the form like a screen in basketball.

• Backfield blocking is allowed but must give an opponent at least one stop of space and not initiate contact.
Rules

Defense

• All players who rush the quarterback must be a minimum of 7 yards from the line of scrimmage when the ball is snapped.
  • Players not rushing the quarterback may defend the line of scrimmage.

• Once the quarterback hands off the ball, the 7-yard zone no longer exists.

• Interceptions cannot be returned, but the team will start from the spot of the interception but reversed.
Unified Partners

• Teams must always have 2 Unified partners and 3 athletes on the field.

• A Unified partner cannot pass to another Unified partner.

• There is no restriction on who can receive a handoff.

• Unified partners on the field during the play can serve as mentors for other players on the team.
Field Layout

- The only possession that does not start from the 35-yard line is an interception.

All possessions go one direction towards the endzone. New possessions start from the 35 yard line.
Penalties

Offense

- All offensive penalties are 10 yards from the line of scrimmage, or half the distance to the goal and a loss of down on a live play.
  - If it is a pre-snap penalty, the team is penalized the yardage and repeats the down.

- The full list of offensive penalties are on page 7 of the Special Olympics Minnesota Handbook.
Penalties

Defense

- All offensive penalties are 10 yards from the line of scrimmage and an automatic first down.
  - The only exception is defensive pass interference, which can be 10 yards or the spot of the foul, as well as the automatic first down.

- The full list of defensive penalties are on page 7 of the Special Olympics Minnesota Handbook.
Individual Skills Rules

Individual Skills is split up into four events:

- Catching: “Run and Catch”
- Throwing for Accuracy
- Throwing for Distance
- Agility and Speed Handoff

- More information on skills can be found in the Special Olympics Minnesota handbook on pages 9-12.
Registration

Registration is done online by head coaches or head of delegations.

When a coach registers a team, they must submit the following:

• Assessment score for each athlete.
• Coaches on the team.
• Updated paperwork for those that need it.
• Team Information Sheet
Divisioning

Assessment scores are based on a ranking from the coach. Assessment sheets can be found here.

Divisioning is based on many factors, including:

• Assessment scores.
• Results from previous regional and state competitions.
• Coach’s notes.

Divisioning for team sports can be more difficult, so the more information that the state office can have, the better teams will be divisioned for competition.
